

SUMMARY STATEMENT

Dwight Randy Green, Kathy Lefor, and Gary Green v. James Green, Docket No. 42916

In an appeal from Bonner County, the Supreme Court affirmed the district court's judgment granting James Green's ("James") motion for summary judgment. Dwight Randy Green, Kathy Lefor, and Gary Green (collectively, "Siblings") initiated this action arguing that the Sixth Amendment to their parents' trust was the product of undue influence exerted by James. The Sixth Amendment changed the trust from an equal distribution between the children to a 100% distribution to James. The district court granted James' motion for summary judgment ruling that Siblings had failed to present facts that would support a finding that the Sixth Amendment to the trust was the product of undue influence. The Supreme Court affirmed, finding that Siblings had failed to present facts sufficient to show that James had an opportunity to exert undue influence over the parties' parents.
